Art Around Adams 2011: Art Evolved! is Set for June 4
Music and art walk to span Adams Avenue

SAN DIEGO, Calif. – April 26, 2011 – Exodus Studios, an events production company, announced today that the eighth annual “Art Around Adams 2011: Art Evolved!,” a music and art walk extending 2 miles on Adams Avenue is happening on June 4 from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m.

A free and family-friendly event, Art Around Adams 2011: Art Evolved! will showcase numerous visual and performance artists, stretching from Oregon street in Normal Heights to Vista street in Kensington. More than 100 businesses will “evolve” into art galleries and/or performance arenas for the day.

“This year we’ve expanded the size of the event, by not only the length, but also the robust quality,” said Adam Rosen, founder of Exodus Studios. “When walking through Art Around Adams this year you’ll be breathing in the best in art & music that San Diego has to offer.”

According to Rosen, Art Around Adams premiered in 2004 and has grown to generate over 10,000 attendees each year.

“Art Around Adams spotlights the rich arts and culture community that is centered in Mid-City. I would hope every San Diegan will come enjoy the best our neighborhoods have to offer,” said Councilmember Todd Gloria.

A complimentary trolley featuring live stand-up comedy will shuttle guests along Adams Avenue. Thousands of dollars’ worth of prizes will be given away. The prizes range from gift cards to vintage wine, all graciously donated from businesses in the Normal Heights/Kensington Communities.

Art Around Adams benefits the Optimists International Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that provides funding for the charitable, literary and educational purposes of Optimist International, a community service based organization committed to creating a more optimistic future for young people through innovative programs.
